PA Link to Community Care:

Welcome! The PA Link to Community Care website is designed to help persons with disabilities and seniors find information that will connect them to supports and services in their community. We hope that this site will help you or a loved one make the best and most informed decisions.

Consumers and family members can access a home care directory of organizations that provide in-home services and supports. You may search for specific services such as personal care, assistance with activities of daily living, companionship, respite and habilitation. Search results can be filtered by county to find agencies within your community.

Educational materials and additional community resources for a variety of topics can be accessed through PA Link to Community Care. Resources are available for consumers, family members, and social service and community providers.

2018 Link trainings: How to Write Fiction

How to Write Fiction Mini-course

This three-hour workshop will teach the basics of composing a story for people recovering from mental illness or drug and alcohol addiction, veteran's groups and any other group that might benefit from exploring creativity. Participants will learn about plotting, characterization, dialogue and narration, setting and more. There will be exercises at every point along the way so the participants can learn as they go. This training will be restricted to groups of 2-10 people, however multiple sessions can be scheduled. Trainer Elizabeth Doan is a published author (under Lisa Doan and a variety of other pen names) who writes novels for young people and adult historical romance novels. She has an MFA in creative writing from Vermont College of Fine Arts and is currently contracted with MacMillan for two upcoming novels.

2018 Link trainings: Hospital To Home

Hospital to Home

This one hour presentation will educate individuals on the biggest risk factors arising during a discharge from the hospital or any other controlled setting to an independent setting and how to mitigate those risks to avoid a readmission. Attendees will learn to: assess and react to symptom red flags, avoid mistakes in medication, and the importance of follow-up doctor visits.

2018 Link trainings: What can the PA Link do for you?

This one hour presentation provides an overview of the aging and disability network system and provides important takeaway tools. Attendees will learn about the PA Link #800 number, available to any PA resident who needs information about programs and services and help accessing them. The person-centered counseling program—a service provided through our committee member agencies to assist people who have multiple problems and require a point person until they are enrolled in programs and services. Attendees will receive a refrigerator magnet with the PA Link's #800 number so that it is readily available when needed.
